Cari Amici

I will soon leave the company I dreamed of for a lifetime and where I spent 10 unforgettable years.

I can only be grateful for the opportunities she has afforded me and for the success we've obtained together, today before everyone's eyes.

Aside from thanking this unique company, though, I also wish to thank each of you who contribute to making the company what it is and who have always shown me great respect both personally and professionally.

You have been described as our 12th man on the pitch and our engine and with countless other metaphors, all truthful and applicable.

Keep going, never stop believing in the company, do justice to the greatest name in the World and shout it out for all to hear, I know I will.

I will always be one of you. Forza Ferrari!

p.s. thanks Jules for having given me such great determination in achieving our latest objective
